SUMMARY

Our business will be to develop and market music to individual consumers using the most current technology available, initially exclusively over the Internet. We plan to offer exclusive artist music from recognized artists, who are talent with a substantial fan base, as well as an active Internet domain. We also plan to eventually offer other products, such as musical equipment, although we have no definitive plans at this point to do so.

We plan to target specific demographics, initially men and women between the ages of 18-35 years old and to initially exclusively rely upon the Internet for the worldwide distribution of our content. We plan to use the music as a marketing tool for future sales. With the content we plan to develop and market on our channel, which will be a website we plan to develop. We plan to eventually have a captured market in which we can then provide live performance festivals worldwide.

The live festivals will act as a promotional vehicle as well as a significant revenue machine. With the live festivals, we plan to develop revenue with ticket sales, product sales, sponsorship and advertising.

The current business plans include:

- Technology for delivery of music product using standard available engineered systems
- Music product and artists
- Equipment sales
- Live festival marketing events

We will first start by developing the artists and music products. We will then use this talent to deliver the products through product sales. We will also use festival marketing events to promote our products.

At the present time, our efforts have been completely organizational. We have not generated any revenues or commenced any operations, including no development of artist relationships, no products to sell and no technology development to provide our product.

We were incorporated on November 6, 2007. Our original location is in the Denver, Colorado metropolitan area, but we plan to operate on a world wide basis. We plan to sell our services to the general public. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. At the present time, we have no plans to raise any additional funds within the next twelve months, other than those raised in our recent Offering. Any working capital will be expected to be generated from funds which may be loaned to us by Mr. Womack, our President. In the event that we need additional capital, Mr. Womack has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so. However, we reserve the right to examine possible additional sources of funds, including, but not limited to, equity or debt offerings, borrowings, or joint ventures. No market surveys have ever been conducted to determine demand for our services. Therefore, there can be no assurance that any of our objectives will be achieved.

In August, 2008, we completed a private placement of our common shares under an exemption from the federal securities laws. We raised a total of $26,750 in this offering and sold a total of 107,000 shares.

We have not been subject to any bankruptcy, receivership or similar proceeding.

Our address is 11805 E. Fair Ave, Greenwood Village, Colorado 80111. Our telephone number is (970) 405-3105.

This Prospectus

We have undertaken several transactions the result of which has been the issuance of shares that have restrictions on their transferability. In order to provide those investors with liquidity for their shares, we are filing with the SEC this prospectus as part of a registration statement to register those securities. We will not receive any proceeds from any sales of these shares.

RISK FACTORS

You should carefully consider the following risk factors, together with the information contained in this prospectus, any reports we file with the SEC and the documents referred to herein. You should also be aware that the risks described below are the risks that we believe material to your decision.

We have no operations, have never generated any revenues, and have never been profitable. We have a negative stockholders equity. As a result, we may never become profitable, and we could go out of business.

We were formed as a Colorado business entity in November, 2007. At the present time, we have no operations. From our inception on November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010, we have generated no revenue. As a result we have no operating history upon which to evaluate our business. We had a net loss of $45,473 from inception through July 31, 2010. We had a negative stockholders' equity of $20,785 at July 31, 2010. Our future sales will depend upon the number of customers we can generate. We cannot guarantee we will ever develop a substantial number of customers. Even if we develop a substantial number of customers, there is no assurance that we will become a profitable company. We may never become profitable, and, as a result, we could go out of business.

Because we had incurred operating losses from our inception, our accountants have expressed doubts about our ability to continue as a going concern.

For the period ended October 31, 2009, our accountants have expressed substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern as a result of our continued net losses. Our ability to achieve and maintain profitability and positive cash flow is dependent upon:

- our ability to begin substantial operations;
- our ability to locate clients who will purchase our products and services; and
- our ability to generate substantial revenues.

Based upon current plans, we may incur operating losses in future periods because we may, from time to time, be incurring expenses but not generating sufficient revenues. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in generating sufficient revenues or other funds in the future to cover these operating costs. Failure to generate sufficient revenues will cause us to go out of business.

We are only minimally capitalized. Because we are only minimally capitalized, we expect to experience a lack of liquidity for the foreseeable future in our ongoing operations. We will adjust our expenses as necessary to prevent cash flow or liquidity problems. However, we expect we will need additional financing of some type, which we do not now possess, to fully develop our operations. We expect to rely principally upon our ability to raise additional financing, the success of which cannot be guaranteed. We will look at both equity and debt financing, including loans from our principal shareholder. However, at the present time, we have no definitive plans for financing in place. In the event that we need additional capital, Mr. Womack has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so. To the extent that we experience a substantial lack of liquidity, our development in accordance with our proposed plan may be delayed or indefinitely postponed, our operations could be impaired, we may never become profitable, fail as an organization, and our investors could lose some or all of their investment.

Our limited operating history makes it difficult for us to evaluate our future business prospects and make decisions based on those estimates of our future performance. As a result, an investor could lose his entire investment.

The concept for our business model was developed in 2007. We have operated as a corporation for short amount of time. We have a limited operating history, based upon no revenues and a lack of profitability. These factors make it difficult to evaluate our business on the basis of historical operations. As a consequence, our past results may not be indicative of future results. Although this is true for any business, it is particularly true for us because of our limited operating history. Reliance on historical results may hinder our ability to anticipate and timely adapt to increases or decreases in sales, revenues or expenses. For example, if we overestimate our future sales for a particular period or periods based on our historical growth rate, we may increase our overhead and other operating expenses to a greater degree than we would have if we correctly anticipated the lower sales level for that period and reduced our controllable expenses accordingly. If we make poor budgetary decisions as a result of unreliable historical data, we could continue to incur losses, which may result in a decline in our stock price.

We have no experience as a public company. Our inability to operate as a public company could be the basis of your losing your entire investment in us.

We have never operated as a public company. We have no experience in complying with the various rules and regulations which are required of a public company. As a result, we may not be able to operate successfully as a public company, even if our operations are successful. We plan to comply with all of the various rules and regulations which are required of a public company. However, if we cannot operate successfully as a public company, your investment may be materially adversely affected. Our inability to operate as a public company could be the basis of your losing your entire investment in us. Our inability to operate as a public company could be the basis of your losing your entire investment in us.

We have a lack of liquidity and will need additional financing in the future. Additional financing may not be available when needed, which could delay or indefinitely postpone our development and impair our operations. We may never become profitable, fail as an organization, and our investors could lose some or all of their investment.

We are only minimally capitalized. Because we are only minimally capitalized, we expect to experience a lack of liquidity for the foreseeable future in our proposed operations. We will adjust our expenses as necessary to prevent cash flow or liquidity problems. However, we expect we will need additional financing of some type, which we do not now possess, to fully develop our operations. We expect to rely principally upon our ability to raise additional financing, the success of which cannot be guaranteed. We will look at both equity and debt financing, including loans from our principal shareholder. However, at the present time, we have no definitive plans for financing in place, other than the funds which may be loaned to us by Mr. Womack, our President. In the event that we need additional capital, Mr. Womack has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so. To the extent that we experience a substantial lack of liquidity, our development in accordance with our proposed plan may be delayed or indefinitely postponed, our operations could be impaired, we may never become profitable, fail as an organization, and our investors could lose some or all of their investment.

There are risks associated with introducing new products. If we are not successful with those product introductions, we will not realize on our investment in developing those products. An investor could lose his entire investment.

We will continue to evaluate opportunities to develop product solutions, and when we choose to develop such products we will incur expenses in those development efforts. Market acceptance of new products may be slow or less than we expect. Our products also may not perform in a manner that is required by the market, or our competitors may be more effective in reaching the market segments we are targeting with these products. Slow market acceptance of these products will delay or eliminate our ability to recover our investment in these products. During any period that we unsuccessfully seek to market these products, we will also incur marketing costs without corresponding revenue. An investor could lose his entire investment.

Our ability to grow our business depends on relationships with others. We have no established relationships at this time. We may never develop such relationships. Further, if we were to lose those relationships, we could lose our ability to sell certain of our products.
An investor could lose his entire investment.

Most of our revenue and a majority of our gross profit are expected to come from selling integrated solutions, consisting of combinations of hardware and software products produced by others. While our relationships will change from time to time, we must rely upon technology partners to augment and enhance the products we plan to sell. At the present time, we do not have any technology partners and cannot guarantee we will ever develop any such partners. If we do develop such partners, we risk that a given technology partner will change its marketing strategy and de-emphasize its use of marketing partners such as us. Our ability to generate revenue from reselling our products would diminish and our operations and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected. An investor could lose his entire investment.

We are a small company with no operating history and limited resources compared to some of our current and potential competitors, which may hinder our ability to compete effectively. An investor could lose his entire investment.

Some of our current and potential competitors have longer operating histories, significantly greater resources, broader name recognition, and a larger installed base of clients than we have. As a result, these competitors may have greater credibility with our existing and potential clients. They also may be able to adopt more aggressive pricing policies and devote greater resources to the development, promotion and sale of their products than we can to ours, which would allow them to respond more quickly than us to new or emerging technologies or changes in client requirements. In addition, some of our current and potential competitors have already established supplier or joint development relationships with decision makers at our potential clients. An investor could lose his entire investment.

We may be unable to hire and retain key personnel. As a result, we could go out of business and an investor could lose his entire investment.

Our future success depends on our ability to attract qualified storage technology and geospatial imagery personnel. We may be unable to attract these necessary personnel. If we fail to attract or retain skilled employees, or if a key employee fails to perform in his or her current position, we may be unable to generate sufficient revenue to offset our operating costs. As a result, we could go out of business and an investor could lose his entire investment.

We may need to substantially invest in marketing efforts in order to grow our intended business, which will be expensive. As a result, we could go out of business and an investor could lose his entire investment.

In order to grow our intended business, we will need to develop and maintain widespread recognition and acceptance of our company, our business model, our services and our products. We have not presented our service and product offering to the potential market. We plan to rely primarily on word of mouth from our existing contacts we develop personally through industry events to promote and market ourselves. In order to successfully grow our company, we may need to significantly increase our financial commitment to creating awareness and acceptance of our company among retailers, which would be expensive. To date, marketing and advertising expenses have been negligible. If we fail to successfully market and promote our business, we could lose potential clients to our competitors, or our growth efforts may be ineffective. If we incur significant expenses promoting and marketing ourselves, it could delay or completely forestall our profitability. On the other hand, we could go out of business and an investor could lose his entire investment.

Our intended business is not diversified, which could result in significant fluctuations in our operating results. As a result, we could go out of business and an investor could lose his entire investment.

All of our intended business will be involved in the marketing of music based on technology solutions, and, accordingly, is dependent upon trends in the sector. Downturns in the music sector could have a material adverse effect on our intended business. A downturn in the music sector may reduce our stock price, even if our business is successful. As a result, we could go out of business and an investor could lose his entire investment.

Because our current officers and directors are involved with other businesses, the manner in which we operate may create the possibility of a conflict of interest.

All of our officers and directors are also involved with other businesses. As a result, each must balance his time with respect to his responsibilities. These other time commitments could create conflict of interest with respect to our operations. Each of our officers and directors is aware of their responsibilities and plans to operate our Company in such a manner as to minimize the effect of any conflict of interest. Each of these officers and directors will use their best judgments to resolve all potential conflicts. We cannot guarantee that any potential conflicts can be avoided.

Our success will be dependent upon our management's efforts. We cannot sustain profitability without the efforts of our management. The loss of any or all of our management, particularly Mr. Womack, our President, could have a material, adverse impact on our operations and may cause us to go out of business. An investor could lose his entire investment.

Our success will be dependent upon the decision making of our directors and executive officers. These individuals intend to commit as much time as necessary to our business, but this commitment is no assurance of success. The loss of any or all of these individuals, particularly Mr. Womack, our President, could have a material, adverse impact on our operations and may cause us to go out of business. An investor could lose his entire investment. We have no written employment agreements with any officers and directors, including Mr. Womack. We have not obtained key man life insurance on the lives of any of our officers or directors.

Our stock has no public trading market and there is no guarantee a trading market will ever develop for our securities. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible for you to liquidate your investment.

There has been, and continues to be, no public market for our common stock. An active trading market for our shares has not, and may never develop or be sustained. If you purchase shares of common stock, you may not be able to resell those shares at or above the initial price you paid. The market price of our common stock may fluctuate significantly in response to numerous factors, some of which are beyond our control, including the following:

- * actual or anticipated fluctuations in our operating results;
- * changes in financial estimates by securities analysts or our failure to perform in line with such estimates;
- * changes in market valuations of other companies, particularly those that market services such as ours;
- * announcements by us or our competitors of significant innovations, acquisitions, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments;
- * introduction of product enhancements that reduce the need for our products;
- * departures of key personnel.

Of our total outstanding shares as of July 31, 2010, a total of 21,769,600, or approximately 94.5%, will be restricted from immediate resale but may be sold into the market in the near future. This could cause the market price of our common stock to drop significantly, even if our business is doing well. As restrictions on resale end, the market price of our stock could drop significantly if the holders of restricted shares sell them or are perceived by the market as intending to sell them.

The share control position of Patrick Womack will limit the ability of other shareholders to influence corporate actions.

Our largest shareholder, Patrick Womack, will own and control 22,000,000 shares and thereby control approximately 95.47% of our outstanding shares. Because Mr. Womack will beneficially control almost 50% of the outstanding shares he will have a significant role in controlling the election or removal of our directors, the supervision and management of our business or a change in control of or sale of our company, even if he believed such changes were in the best interest of our shareholders generally.

The over-the-counter market for stock such as ours is subject to extreme price and volume fluctuations. You may not be able to resell your shares at or above the public sale price.

The securities of companies such as ours have historically experienced extreme price and volume fluctuations during certain periods. These broad market fluctuations and other factors, such as new product developments and trends in the our industry and in the investment markets generally, as well as economic conditions and quarterly variations in our operational results, may have a negative effect on the market price of our common stock.

In general, buying low-priced penny stocks is very risky and speculative. The shares being offered are defined as a penny stock under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, and rules of the Commission. You may not be able to sell your shares when you want to do so, if at all.

The shares being offered are defined as a penny stock under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, and rules of the Commission. The Exchange Act and such penny stock rules generally impose additional sales practice and disclosure requirements on broker-dealers who sell our securities to persons other than certain accredited investors who are, generally, institutions with assets in excess of $5,000,000 or individuals with net worth in excess of $1,000,000 or annual income exceeding $200,000, or $300,000 jointly with spouse, or in transactions not recommended by the broker-dealer. For transactions covered by the penny stock rules, a broker-dealer must make a suitability determination for each purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement prior to the sale. In addition, the broker-dealer must make certain mandated disclosures in penny stock transactions, including the actual sale or purchase price and actual bid and offer quotations, the compensation to be received by the broker-dealer and certain associated persons, and deliver certain disclosures required by the Commission. Consequently, the penny stock rules may affect the ability of broker-dealers to make a market in or trade our common stock and may also affect your ability to resell any shares you may purchase in the public markets.

Resale Limitations imposed by most states will limit the ability of our shareholders to sell their securities unless they are Colorado residents.

The only state in which we plan to register this offering is Colorado. As a result, our selling shareholders may be limited in the sale of their Shares. The laws of most states require either an exemption from prospectus and registration requirements of the securities laws to sell their shares or registration for sale by this prospectus. These restrictions will limit the ability of non-residents of Colorado to sell the securities. Residents of other states must rely on available exemptions to sell their securities, such as Rule 144, and if no exemptions can be relied upon, then the selling shareholders may have to hold the securities for an indefinite period of time. Shareholders of states other than Colorado should consult independent legal counsel to determine the availability and use of exemptions to re-sell their securities.

We do not expect to pay dividends on common stock.

We have not paid any cash dividends with respect to our common stock, and it is unlikely that we will pay any dividends on our common stock in the foreseeable future. Earnings, if any, that we may realize will be retained in the business for further development and expansion.

USE OF PROCEEDS

This prospectus relates to the resale of our common stock that may be offered and sold from time to time by the selling stockholders. We will not receive any proceeds from the sale of shares of common stock in this offering.

DILUTION

Dilution represents the difference between the offering price and the net tangible book value per share. Net tangible book value is the amount that results from subtracting total liabilities and intangible assets from total assets. Dilution arises mainly as a result of our arbitrary determination of the offering price of the shares being offered. Dilution of the value of the shares you purchase is also a result of the lower book value of the shares held by our existing stockholders. As of July 31, 2010, the net tangible book value of our shares was $(20,785), or approximately $(0.000902) per share, based upon 23,044,500 shares outstanding.

Upon the sale of shares offered hereby,, the net tangible book value of the Shares held by our existing stockholders will not be increased . However the purchasers of Shares will incur immediate dilution (a reduction in net tangible book value per Share from the offering price of $0.25 per Share) of $(0.250902) per share.

The following table illustrates the per share dilution to new investors.

	Offering
Public Offering Price Per Share	$ 0.25
Net Tangible Book Value Prior To This Offering	$ (20,785)
Immediate Dilution Per Share To New Investors	$ (0.250902)

DETERMINATION OF OFFERING PRICE

These shares of common stock may be sold by the selling stockholders from time to time in the over-the-counter market or on other national securities exchanges or automated interdealer quotation systems on which our common stock may be listed or quoted, through negotiated transactions or otherwise at market prices prevailing at the time of sale or at negotiated prices. The distribution of the shares by the selling stockholders is not subject to any underwriting agreement. The selling stockholders will sell their shares at the initial offering price of $0.25 per share until the shares are traded on the OTC Bulletin Board or a national securities exchange, at which point the selling shareholders may sell the registered shares at the prevailing market price for the shares at the time of sale. We will file a post-effective amendment to this registration statement to reflect a change to the market price when the shares begin trading on a market.

To be quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board, a market maker must file an application on our behalf in order to make a market in our common stock. There is no certainty that our shares will be quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board or listed on any exchange.

MARKET FOR COMMON EQUITY AND RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS

Holders

As of July 31, 2010, there were 46 record holders of our common stock, and there were 23,044,500 shares of our common stock outstanding. No public market currently exists for shares of our common stock.

The Securities Enforcement and Penny Stock Reform Act of 1990

The Securities and Exchange Commission has also adopted rules that regulate broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in penny stocks. Penny stocks are generally equity securities with a price of less than $5.00 (other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the Nasdaq system, provided that current price and volume information with respect to transactions in such securities is provided by the exchange or system).

A purchaser is purchasing penny stock which limits the ability to sell the stock. The shares offered by this prospectus constitute penny stock under the Securities and Exchange Act. The shares will remain penny stocks for the foreseeable future. The classification of penny stock makes it more difficult for a broker-dealer to sell the stock into a secondary market, which makes it more difficult for a purchaser to liquidate his/her investment. Any broker-dealer engaged by the purchaser for the purpose of selling his or her shares in us will be subject to Rules 15c-1 through 15c-10 of the Securities and Exchange Act. Rather than creating a need to comply with those rules, some broker-dealers will refuse to attempt to sell penny stock.

The penny stock rules require a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from those rules, to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document prepared by the Commission, which:

- contains a description of the nature and level of risk in the market for penny stocks in both public offerings and secondary trading;
- contains a description of the broker's or dealer's duties to the customer and of the rights and remedies available to the customer with respect to a violation to such duties or other requirements of the Securities Act of 1934, as amended;
- contains a brief, clear, narrative description of a dealer market, including "bid" and "ask" prices for penny stocks and the significance of the spread between the bid and ask price;
- contains a toll-free telephone number for inquiries on disciplinary actions;
- defines significant terms in the disclosure document or in the conduct of trading penny stocks; and
- contains such other information and is in such form (including language, type, size and format) as the Securities and Exchange Commission shall require by rule or regulation;

The broker-dealer also must provide, prior to effecting any transaction in a penny stock, to the customer:

- the bid and offer quotations for the penny stock;
- the compensation of the broker-dealer and its salesperson in the transaction;
- the number of shares to which such bid and ask prices apply, or other comparable information relating to the depth and liquidity of the market for such stock; and
- monthly account statements showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer's account.

In addition, the penny stock rules require that prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from those rules; the broker-dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written acknowledgment of the receipt of a risk disclosure statement, a written agreement to transactions involving penny stocks, and a signed and dated copy of a written suitability statement. These disclosure requirements will have the effect of reducing the trading activity in the secondary market for our stock because it will be subject to these penny stock rules. Therefore, stockholders may have difficulty selling their securities.

Equity Compensation Plan Information

We have no outstanding stock options or other equity compensation plans.

Results of Operations.

From our inception on November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010, we have generated no revenue and have no operations. As a result we have no operating history upon which to evaluate our intended business. In addition, we have a history of losses. We had a net loss of $45,473 for this period.

As of our fiscal year end, October 31, 2009, our accountants have expressed substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern as a result of our history of net loss. Our ability to achieve and maintain profitability and positive cash flow is dependent upon our ability to successfully develop and market our software and our ability to generate revenues.

Operating expenses, which consisted solely of general and administrative expenses for the nine month period ended July 31, 2010 were $6,467. This compares with operating expenses for the nine month period ended July 31, 2009 of $7,509. For the period from November 6, 2007 through October 31, 2009 they were $33,540. Operating expenses from November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010 were $40,007. The major components of general and administrative expenses include accounting fees, consulting fees, legal and professional fees and stock transfer fees.

As a result of the foregoing, we had a net loss of $7,967 for the nine month period ended July 31, 2010. This compares with a net loss for the nine month period ended July 31, 2009 of $9,009. For the period from November 6, 2007 through October 31, 2009 our net loss was $37,506. Our net loss was $45,473 from November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010.

Because we do not pay salaries, and our major professional fees have been paid for the year, operating expenses are expected to remain fairly constant through the end of our fiscal year.

Our operations for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2009, compared to October 31, 2010 were very similar. We have generated no revenue and had no development of artist relationships, no products to sell and no technology developed to provide our product during both of these periods. Our activities have been directed at developing our business plan for eventually generating revenue.

To try to operate at a break-even level based upon our current level of proposed business activity, we believe that we must generate approximately $25,000 in revenue per year. Each dollar of revenue is not directly tied to increasing costs. We believe that we can become profitable without incurring additional costs under our current operating cost structure. However, if our forecasts are inaccurate, we will need to raise additional funds. In the event that we need additional capital, Mr. Womack has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so.

On the other hand, if we decide that we cannot operate at a profit in our current configuration, we may choose to scale back our operations to operate at break-even with a smaller level of business activity, while adjusting our overhead to meet the revenue from current operations. In such event, we will probably not be profitable. In addition, we expect that we will need to raise additional funds if we decide to pursue more rapid expansion, the development of new or enhanced services or products, appropriate responses to competitive pressures, or the acquisition of complementary businesses or technologies, or if we must respond to unanticipated events that require us to make additional investments. We cannot assure that additional financing will be available when needed on favorable terms, or at all.

We expect to incur operating losses in future periods because we will be incurring expenses and not generating sufficient revenues. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in generating sufficient revenues or other funds in the future to cover these operating costs. Failure to generate sufficient revenues or additional financing when needed could cause us to go out of business.

Liquidity and Capital Resources.

As of July 31, 2010, we had cash or cash equivalents of $11,181. As of July 31, 2009, we had cash or cash equivalents of $18,669.

Net cash used for operating activities was $7,488 for the nine month period ended July 31, 2010. This compares to net cash used for operating activities of $7,509 for the nine month period ended July 31, 2009. For the period from November 6, 2007 through October 31, 2009 they were $8,081. Net cash used for operating activities from November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010 were $15,569.

Cash flows from investing activities were $-0- from our inception on November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010.

Cash flows provided by financing activities were $-0- for the nine month period ended July 31, 2010, and July 31, 2009. For the period from November 6, 2007 through October 31, 2009 they were $26,750. Net cash used for financing activities from November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010 was $26,750. These cash flows were all related to sales of stock, issuance of notes and deferred offering costs.

Over the next twelve months we do not expect any material capital costs to develop operations. We plan to buy office equipment to be used in our operations, which is included in our $25,000 operating costs. Our operating costs of $25,000 will be used for operations, but none will be used to pay salaries.

Our principal source of liquidity will be our operations. We expect variation in revenues to account for the difference between a profit and a loss. Also business activity is closely tied to the U.S. economy. Our ability to achieve and maintain profitability and positive cash flow is dependent upon our ability to successfully develop a music business and our ability to generate revenues.

In any case, we try to operate with minimal overhead. Our primary activity will be to seek to develop clients for our services and, consequently, our sales. If we succeed in developing clients for our services and generating sufficient sales, we will become profitable. We cannot guarantee that this will ever occur. Our plan is to build our company in any manner which will be successful.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We have no off-balance sheet arrangements with any party.

Plan of Operation.

Our plan for the twelve months beginning January 1, 2010 is to operate at a profit or at break even. Our plan is to attract sufficient additional product sales and services within our present organizational structure and resources to become profitable in our operations.

Our intended business will be to develop and market music based on technology solutions. We plan to offer exclusive artist music from established artists, direct for targeted demographics, on a global basis through the Internet. We plan to use the music as a marketing tool for future sales in a captured market via live performance festivals worldwide. The live festivals will act as a promotional vehicle as well as a significant revenue machine.

The current business plans include:

- Technology for delivery of music product using standard available engineered systems
- Music product and artists
- Equipment sales
- Live festival marketing events

Each component is planned to be developed as simultaneously as possible. We will first start by developing the artists and music products. We will then use this talent to deliver the products through product sales. We will also use festival marketing events to promote our products.

From our inception on November 6, 2007 through July 31, 2010, we have generated no revenue and no operations. We have only one location in the Denver Metropolitan area. We currently have no plans to expand into other locations or areas, although we eventually plan to operate on a global basis through the Internet. The timing of the completion of the milestones needed to become profitable is not directly dependent on anything except our ability to develop sufficient revenues. We believe that we can achieve profitability as we are presently organized with sufficient business. Our principal cost will be marketing our product. At this point, we do not know the scope of our potential marketing costs but will use our existing resources to market our product. Our resources consist of our available cash and advances from Mr. Womack, who has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so.

If we are not successful in our operations we will be faced with several options:

1. Cease operations and go out of business (which would mean closing the company and having the shareholders lose all or most of their investment);
2. Continue to seek alternative and acceptable sources of capital(Mr. Womack is currently our only source of financing. We would look to alternative sources, if available);
3. Bring in additional capital that may result in a change of control(if we seek additional sources of capital, all shareholders, including Mr. Womack, would potentially be diluted, perhaps to the point of a change of control); or
4. Identify a candidate for acquisition that seeks access to the public marketplace and its financing sources(we might explore potential acquisition candidates, although we have no such candidates at this time)

Currently, we believe that we have sufficient capital to implement our proposed business operations or to sustain them through December 31, 2010. If we can become profitable, we could operate at our present level indefinitely. To date, we have never had any discussions with any possible acquisition candidate nor have we any intention of doing so.

Proposed Milestones to Implement Business Operations

At the present time, we plan to operate from one location in the Denver Metropolitan area. Our plan is to make our operation profitable by December 31, 2010. We estimate that we must generate approximately $25,000 in sales per year to be profitable. Our plan is to attract sufficient product sales and services within our present organizational structure and resources to become profitable in our operations.

We believe that we can be profitable or at break even by the end of the current fiscal year, assuming sufficient sales. Based upon our current plans, we have adjusted our operating expenses so that cash generated from operations and from working capital financing is expected to be sufficient for the foreseeable future to fund our operations at our currently forecasted levels. To try to operate at a break-even level based upon our current level of anticipated business activity, we believe that we must generate approximately $25,000 in revenue per year. However, if our forecasts are inaccurate, we may need to raise additional funds. Our resources consist of our available cash and advances from Mr. Womack, who has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so. On the other hand, we may choose to scale back our operations to operate at break-even with a smaller level of business activity, while adjusting our overhead to meet the revenue from current operations. In addition, we expect that we will need to raise additional funds if we decide to pursue more rapid expansion, the development of new or enhanced services and products, appropriate responses to competitive pressures, or the acquisition of complementary businesses or technologies, or if we must respond to unanticipated events that require us to make additional investments. We cannot assure that additional financing will be available when needed on favorable terms, or at all.

We expect to incur operating losses in future periods because we will be incurring expenses and not generating sufficient revenues. We expect approximately $25,000 in operating costs over the next twelve months. We cannot guarantee that we will be successful in generating sufficient revenues or other funds in the future to cover these operating costs. Failure to generate sufficient revenues or additional financing when needed could cause us to go out of business

Other than advances from Mr. Womack, who has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so, there is no assurance that additional funds will be made available to us on terms that will be acceptable, or at all, if and when needed. We expect to generate and increase sales, but there can be no assurance we will generate sales sufficient to continue operations or to expand.

We also are planning to rely on the possibility of referrals from clients and will strive to satisfy our clients. We believe that referrals will be an effective form of advertising because of the quality of service that we bring to clients. We believe that satisfied clients will bring more and repeat clients.

In the next 12 months, we do not intend to spend any material funds on research and development and do not intend to purchase any large equipment.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements.

We do not expect the adoption of any recently issued accounting pronouncements to have a significant impact on our net results of operations, financial position, or cash flows.

Seasonality.

We do not expect our revenues to be impacted by seasonal demands for our services.

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

General

Our intended business will be to develop and market music to individual consumers using the most current technology available, initially exclusively over the Internet. We plan to offer exclusive artist music from recognized artists, who are talent with a substantial fan base, as well as an active Internet domain. We also plan to eventually offer other products, such as musical equipment, although we have no definitive plans at this point to do so.

We plan to target specific demographics, initially men and women between the ages of 18-35 years old and to initially exclusively rely upon the Internet for the worldwide distribution of our content. We plan to use the music as a marketing tool for future sales. With the content we plan to develop and market on our channel, which will be a website we plan to develop. We plan to eventually have a captured market in which we can then provide live performance festivals worldwide.

The live festivals will act as a promotional vehicle as well as a significant revenue machine. With the live festivals, we plan to develop revenue with ticket sales, product sales, sponsorship and advertising.

The current business plans include:

- Technology for delivery of music product using standard available engineered systems
- Music product and artists
- Equipment sales
- Live festival marketing events

Each component is planned to be developed as simultaneously as possible. We will first start by developing the artists and music products. We will then use this talent to deliver the products through product sales. We will eventually use festival marketing events to promote our products but this will only come after our plan to our development of artists and music products.

At the present time, our efforts have been completely organizational. We have not generated any revenues or commenced any operations, including no development of artist relationships, no products to sell and no technology development to provide our product..

We were incorporated on November 6, 2007. Our original location is in the Denver, Colorado metropolitan area, but we plan to operate on a world wide basis. We sell our services to the general public. At the present time, we have no plans to raise any additional funds within the next twelve months, other than those raised in our recent Offering. Any working capital will be expected to be generated from internal operations or from funds which may be loaned to us by Mr. Womack, our President. In the event that we need additional capital, Mr. Womack has orally agreed to loan such funds as may be necessary through December 31, 2010 for working capital purposes, although he has no obligation to do so. However, we reserve the right to examine possible additional sources of funds, including, but not limited to, equity or debt offerings, borrowings, or joint ventures. No market surveys have ever been conducted to determine demand for our services. Therefore, there can be no assurance that any of our objectives will be achieved.

In August, 2008, we completed a private placement of our common shares under an exemption from the federal securities laws. We raised a total of $26,750 in this offering and sold a total of 107,000 shares.

We have not been subject to any bankruptcy, receivership or similar proceeding.

Our address is 11805 E. Fair Ave, Greenwood Village, Colorado 80111. Our telephone number is (970) 405-3105.

The Product

We believe that blue tooth and WiFi are main stream technologies that are mature and being utilized for entertainment and communication world wide. Music and wireless have combined and the result are ring tone sales, where vintage music is in demand. We do not believe that there is a dominant wireless marketing application. The internet has matured in its use by businesses and consumers. Music is sold via the internet by both CD sale and download. Technology to deliver is obtainable in off the shelf and customized applications. Web based applications are accepted by the market globally and growing in their market share. Broadband Connections are readily available and in use by a large percentage of our target audience for this venture.

Our primary mission is to create music utilizing recognized artists who are talent with a substantial fan base as well as an active Internet domain and deliver it to consumers in several media as a marketing tool that generates revenue. Our music will only be available from us and our exclusive channel, which will be a website which we plan to develop.

We will develop this website to house our content. We will seek advertisers for the website and will be paid on a per “click” basis for ads which are viewed on our website. We plan to market our content on this website. We also plan to resell the data which we have mined from our website to advertisers. This data would consist of information voluntarily left with us by persons who have visited our website. The information can be sold to advertisers on a per person visit basis or aggregated to show various marketing preferences and trends. To date, we have not developed a website.

There are two types of artists who we plan to promote. The first are recognized artists that have a substantial fan base as well as an active internet domain. Web traffic will be created from recognized artists domains as well as direct marketing. The second are new artists that can be launched on the backs of the established artists. The new artists will be produced by us. It will be our goal to create pop music that has a distinctive sound, different by way of leveraged technology and production methods. We will initially focus on recognized artists. We plan to attract them with agreements which give them better profits than they can currently obtain from other companies. Once we have established a base of such artists, we plan to search for new artists.

We will initially focus on recognized artists. This will be our basis for selecting our intial group of artists. We plan to attract them with agreements which give them better profits than they can currently obtain from other companies. We believe that there are sufficient numbers of artists who feel neglected and would respond positively to offers to give them better profits than they can currently obtain from other companies. We plan to provide them with ongoing royalties from the sale of their music. Once we have established a base of such artists, we plan to search for new artists.

Festivals

We plan to develop the festivals around the artists and music products which we will acquire or develop. We plan to begin developing these festivals once have both artists and music content.

We have developed several concept festivals that include the best of British blues and 80's rock. We plan to use established brand names of artists not currently on the charts who have been neglected by the industry for corporate performances.

We plan to use the results of these activities to provide ongoing royalties to us and for our artists including;

- Song royalty
- Sales of CD's and downloads
- Ring tone revenue
- Video
- Gaming

We plan to market these activities listed above exclusively on our website.

We also plan to conduct Virtual Festivals. The Virtual Festival is a performance event which utilizes the internet for use in live performances and the delivery of marketing messages to the attendees and creates sales opportunities via a captured market audience. The Virtual Festival then becomes a direct channel that can be utilized by us for direct technology sales as well as for equipment sales and distribution. Sponsorships for these events can be a substantial source of revenue. We are currently in discussion with several potential primary sponsors but have no definitive agreements.

The festivals and corporate performances will be used as events which provide a basis to market our products. They will not be the principal method, but one of several vehicles. The frequency of their use will depend on there success in generating revenues.

Revenue Generation Plan

We anticipate that we can develop revenues from the following sources:

1. Event Ticket Sales
2. Music Media Sales
3. Merchandise Sales
4. Promotional/Sponsorship and Advertising Revenue
5. Web traffic sales driven from event

Initially, we plan to generate revenue solely from the sale of artist music and associated merchandise, as well as the sale of advertising on our web site. With the content we plan to develop and market on our channel, we anticipate eventually having a captured market in which we can then provide live performance festivals worldwide. These festivals are planned to generate ticket sales, the sale of artist music and associated merchandise, and website sponsorship and advertising revenue.

Organization

We are comprised of one corporation. All of our operations are conducted through this corporation.

Operations

We plan to initially operate out of the office of our President. This office is also shared with another company owned by our President and largest shareholder.

We are not presently marketing our product but plan to do so prior to the end of 2010. We plan to utilize the existing business relationships of our principal officer, Mr. Womack to develop our opportunities. Mr.Womack does not currently have any substantial experience in the music industry but has had experience in the development of web sites and in Internet related activities. All operational decisions will be made solely by Mr. Womack.

It should be noted, however, that we do not have any history of operations. To the extent that management is unsuccessful in keeping expenses in line with income, failure to affect the events and goals listed herein would result in a general failure of the business. This would cause management to consider liquidation or merger..

Markets

Our sales strategy is two fold:

1. Selling where music and technology are sold together direct to the consumer online on a website yet to be developed by us; and
2. React in a market driven manner to ensure consumer demand is met in real-time. This will involve providing prompt response to consumer demand through Internet sales.

We believe that the primary reason that customer would buy from us rather than competitors would be the products that we can develop. We believe that client loyalty and satisfaction can be the basis for success in this business. Therefore, we plan to develop and expand on our product offerings to develop a competitive edge. We plan to utilize the efforts of our principal officer to develop our business.

Clients and Competition

We are not aware of any direct competitor. Almost all of the companies in this industry have greater resources and expertise than us. Any of them could chose to enter our proposed market at any time. Competition with these companies could make it difficult, if not impossible for us to compete, which could adversely affect our results of operations. Competition from larger and more established companies is a significant threat and is expected to remain so for us. Any competition may cause us to fail to gain or to lose clients, which could result in reduced or non-existent revenue. Competitive pressures may impact our revenues and our growth.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The selling stockholders may, from time to time, sell any or all of their shares of common stock on any stock exchange, market or trading facility on which the shares are traded or in private transactions. If the shares of common stock are sold through underwriters or broker-dealers, the selling stockholders will be responsible for underwriting discounts or commission or agent's commissions. The selling stockholders have advised us that they will sell the shares of common stock from time to time in the open market, at the initial offering price of $0.25 per share, which was the most recent price paid for the shares, until the shares are quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board or national securities exchange, at which point the selling securities holders may sell the registered shares at fixed prices, at prevailing market prices at the time of the sale, at varying prices determined at the time of sale, or negotiated prices. To be quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board, a market maker must file an application on our behalf in order to make a market in our common stock. There is no certainty that our shares will be quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board or listed on any exchange. The selling stockholders may use any one or more of the following methods when selling shares:

- any national securities exchange or quotation service on which the securities may be listed or quoted at the time of sale;
- ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which the broker-dealer solicits purchasers;
- block trades in which the broker-dealer will attempt to sell the shares as agent but may position and resell a portion of the block as principal to facilitate the transaction;
- purchases by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by the broker-dealer for its account;
- transactions otherwise than on these exchanges or systems or in the over-the-counter market;
- through the writing of options, whether such options are listed on an options exchange or otherwise;
- an exchange distribution in accordance with the rules of the applicable exchange;
- privately negotiated transactions;
- short sales;
- broker-dealers may agree with the selling stockholders to sell a specified number of such shares at a stipulated price per share;
- a combination of any such methods of sale; and
- any other method permitted pursuant to applicable law.

The selling stockholders may also sell shares under Rule 144 under the Securities Act, if available, rather than under this prospectus

The selling stockholders may also engage in short sales against the box, puts and calls and other transactions in our securities or derivatives of our securities and may sell or deliver shares in connection with these trades.

Broker-dealers engaged by the selling stockholders may arrange for other broker-dealers to participate in sales. Broker-dealers may receive commissions or discounts from the selling stockholders (or, if any broker-dealer acts as agent for the purchaser of shares, from the purchaser) in amounts to be negotiated. The selling stockholders do not expect these commissions and discounts to exceed what is customary in the types of transactions involved. Any profits on the resale of shares of common stock by a broker-dealer acting as principal might be deemed to be underwriting discounts or commissions under the Securities Act. Discounts, concessions, commissions and similar selling expenses, if any, attributable to the sale of shares will be borne by a selling stockholder. The selling stockholders may agree to indemnify any agent, dealer or broker-dealer that participates in transactions involving sales of the shares if liabilities are imposed on that person under the Securities Act.

In connection with the sale of the shares of common stock or otherwise, the selling stockholders may enter into hedging transactions with broker-dealers, which may in turn engage in short sales of the shares of common stock in the course of hedging in positions they assume.

The selling stockholders may also sell shares of common stock short and deliver shares of common stock covered by this prospectus to close out short positions and to return borrowed shares in connection with such short sales. The selling stockholders may also loan or pledge shares of common stock to broker-dealers that in turn may sell such shares. The selling stockholders may, from time to time, pledge or grant a security interest in some or all of the shares of common stock owned by them and, if they default in the performance of their secured obligations, the pledgees or secured parties may offer and sell the shares of common stock from time to time under this prospectus after we have filed an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus.

The selling stockholders also may transfer the shares of common stock in other circumstances, in which case the transferees, pledgees or other successors in interest will be the selling beneficial owners for purposes of this prospectus and may sell the shares of common stock from time to time under this prospectus after we have filed an amendment to this prospectus under Rule 424(b)(3) or other applicable provision of the Securities Act amending the list of selling stockholders to include the pledgee, transferee or other successors in interest as selling stockholders under this prospectus. The selling stockholders also may transfer and donate the shares of common stock in other circumstances in which case the transferees, donees, pledgees or other successors in interest will be the selling beneficial owners for purposes of this prospectus. The selling stockholders and any broker-dealers or agents that are involved in selling the shares may be deemed to be “underwriters” within the meaning of the Securities Act in connection with such sales. In such event, any commissions paid, or any discounts or concessions allowed to, such broker-dealers or agents and any profit realized on the resale of the shares purchased by them may be deemed to be underwriting commissions or discounts under the Securities Act. At the time a particular offering of the shares of common stock is made, a prospectus supplement, if required, will be distributed which will set forth the aggregate amount of shares of common stock being offered and the terms of the offering, including the name or names of any broker-dealers or agents, any discounts, commissions and other terms constituting compensation from the selling stockholders and any discounts, commissions or concessions allowed or re-allowed or paid to broker-dealers. Under the securities laws of some states, the shares of common stock may be sold in such states only through registered or licensed brokers or dealers.

In addition, in some states the shares of common stock may not be sold unless such shares have been registered or qualified for sale in such state or an exemption from registration or qualification is available and is complied with. There can be no assurance that any selling stockholder will sell any or all of the shares of common stock registered pursuant to the shelf registration statement, of which this prospectus forms a part.

Each selling stockholder has informed us that it does not have any agreement or understanding, directly or indirectly, with any person to distribute the common stock. None of the selling stockholders who are affiliates of broker-dealers, other than the initial purchasers in private transactions, purchased the shares of common stock outside of the ordinary course of business or, at the time of the purchase of the common stock, had any agreements, plans or understandings, directly or indirectly, with any person to distribute the securities.

We are paying all fees and expenses incident to the registration of the shares of common stock. Except as provided for indemnification of the selling stockholders, we are not obligated to pay any of the expenses of any attorney or other advisor engaged by a selling stockholder. We have not agreed to indemnify any selling stockholders against losses, claims, damages and liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act.

If we are notified by any selling stockholder that any material arrangement has been entered into with a broker-dealer for the sale of shares of common stock, if required, we will file a supplement to this prospectus. If the selling stockholders use this prospectus for any sale of the shares of common stock, they will be subject to the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act.

The anti-manipulation rules of Regulation M under the Exchange Act may apply to sales of our common stock and activities of the selling stockholders, which may limit the timing of purchases and sales of any of the shares of common stock by the selling stockholders and any other participating person. Regulation M may also restrict the ability of any person engaged in the distribution of the shares of common stock to engage in passive market-making activities with respect to the shares of common stock. Passive market making involves transactions in which a market maker acts as both our underwriter and as a purchaser of our common stock in the secondary market. All of the foregoing may affect the marketability of the shares of common stock and the ability of any person or entity to engage in market-making activities with respect to the shares of common stock.

Once sold under the registration statement, of which this prospectus forms a part, the shares of common stock will be freely tradable in the hands of persons other than our affiliates.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS.

There is no litigation pending or threatened by or against the Company.

LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the shares of common stock to be sold in the offering will be passed upon for us by the law firm of David Wagner & Associates, P.C. This firm owns 400,000 shares of our common stock.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

Board of Directors
Univest Tech, Inc.
Parker, Colorado

I have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Univest Tech, Inc. (a development stage company) as of October 31, 2009 and 2008, and the related statements of operations, stockholders' equity and cash flows for the year ended October 31, 2009, the period from November 6, 2007 (inception) through October 31, 2008, and for the period from November 6, 2007 (inception) through October 31, 2009. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit.

I conducted my audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audit provides a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Univest Tech, Inc. as of October 31, 2009 and 2008, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended October 31, 2009, the period from November 6, 2007 (inception) through October 31, 2008, and for the period from November 6, 2007 (inception) through October 31, 2009 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements the Company has suffered losses from operations that raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management's plans in regard to these matters are also described in Note 2. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

REVENUE RECOGNITION

The Company will develop and market music based on technology solutions. Revenue is recognized on an accrual basis after services have been performed under contract terms, the service price to the client is fixed or determinable, and collection is reasonably assured. More specifically the Company recognizes revenue from ticket sales after the ticketed event has occurred, from web site based sales of music media, merchandise, and wireless devices after the ordered product has been shipped, and from promotion and advertising activities after the contracted service has been performed. As of July 31, 2010, October 31, 2009 and 2008, the Company has had no revenues.

Note 2 – Basis of Presentation

In the course of its life the Company has had limited operations, and has a working capital deficit. This raises substantial doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company believes it can raise capital through equity sales and borrowing to fund its marketing and operating activities. Management believes this will contribute toward its operations and subsequent profitability. The accompanying financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

Note 3 – Related Party Events

The Company currently has an office located at an address maintained by the President on a rent free basis.

Note 4 – Capital Stock

The Company authorized 50,000,000 shares of $.001 par value common stock. Through January 31, 2010, the Company issued a total of 22,044,500 shares raising $26,750.

On November 7, 2007 the Company issued 22,937,500 shares of $.001 par value common stock for services valued at $22,938 or $.001 per share.

Univest tech, Inc.
(A Development Stage Company)
Notes to Financial Statements
The Period November 6, 2007 (inception) through October 31, 2008,
The Year Ended October 31, 2009,
And the Unaudited Nine Month Period Ended July 31, 2010

On August 8, 2008 the Company completed its private offering and issued 107,000 shares of $.001 par value common stock for $26,750 or $.25 per share. The Company incurred offering expenses totaling $25,000. These expenses directly reduced the offering proceeds of $26,750 resulting in net funds received of $1,750.

The Company authorized 1,000,000 shares of $.10 par value, preferred stock, to have such preferences as the Directors of the Company may assign from time to time. No preferred stock is either issued or outstanding as of October 31, 2009.

The Company has declared no dividends through July 31, 2010.

Note 5 - Income Taxes

Deferred income taxes arise from the temporary differences between financial statement and income tax recognition of net operating losses. These loss carryovers are limited under the Internal Revenue Code should a significant change in ownership occur. The Company accounts for income taxes pursuant to ASC 740. At July 31, 2010, October 31, 2009 and October 31, 2008, the Company had approximately $45,473 $37,506 and $25,476 in unused federal net operating loss carryforwards, which begin to expire principally in the year 2028. A deferred tax asset at each date of approximately $9,095, $7,501 and $5,095 resulting from the loss carryforwards has been offset by a 100% valuation allowance. The change in the valuation allowance for the periods ended July 31, 2010, October 31, 2009 and October 31, 2008 was approximately $1,594, $2,406 and $5,095.

Note 6 - Note Payable

The Company at July 31, 2010, October 31, 2009 and October 31, 2008 had an outstanding note payable for $25,000 to a company related by common control, unsecured, bearing an interest rate at 8% per annum and due on demand. Interest expense under the note for the Nine months ended July 31, 2010 was $1,500, for the period ended October 31, 2009 was $2,000, and for the period ended October 31, 2008 was $1,966 with accrued interest payable of $5,966 at July 31, 2010, $3,966 at October 31, 2009 and $1,966 at October 31, 2008.

Legal fees and expenses	$ 27,500
Printing expenses	$ 1,000

* Estimated.

Item 14. Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Pursuant to our Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws, we may indemnify an officer or director who is made a party to any proceeding, including a law suit, because of his position, if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in our best interest. In certain cases, we may advance expenses incurred in defending any such proceeding. To the extent that the officer or director is successful on the merits in any such proceeding as to which such person is to be indemnified, we must indemnify him against all expenses incurred, including attorney's fees. With respect to a derivative action, indemnity may be made only for expenses actually and reasonably incurred in defending the proceeding, and if the officer or director is judged liable, only by a court order. The prior discussion of indemnification in this paragraph is intended to be to the fullest extent permitted by the laws of the State of Colorado.

Indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, may be permitted to directors or officers pursuant to the foregoing provisions. However, we are informed that, in the opinion of the Commission, such indemnification is against public policy, as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable.

Item 15. Recent Sales of Unregistered Securities

On November 6, 2007, we issued the following restricted common shares to the following persons and entities at a price of $0.001 per share for past services, which involved the effort to incorporate us and to develop our business plan.:

In the transactions shown above, the issuance, delivery and sale of our common stock were made pursuant to the private offering exemption within the meaning of Section 4(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 ("Act") because the offers were made to a limited number of people, all of whom received all material information concerning the investment and all of whom have had sophistication and ability to bear economic risk based upon their representations to us and their prior experience in such investments. The exemptions are claimed upon, among other things, certain representations made by the purchasers in connection with the transactions. The purchase price paid by the purchaser's consideration for the common stock was determined through arm's-length negotiations between the parties.

On August 8, 2008, we issued the following restricted common shares to the following entity at a price of $0.25 for cash:

Item 17. Undertakings

The Registrant hereby undertakes the following:

(1) To file, during any period in which it offers or sells securities, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement to:

(i) include any Prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act;

(ii) To reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of the securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of a prospectus filed with the Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b)(Section 230.424(b) of this chapter) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the "Calculation of Registration Fee" table in the effective registration statement, and

(iii) To include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement..

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) If the registrant is subject to Rule 430C (Section 230.430C of this chapter), each prospectus filed pursuant to Rule 424(b) as part of a registration statement relating to an offering, other than registration statements relying on Rule 430B or other than prospectuses filed in reliance on Rule 430A, shall be deemed to be part of and included in the registration statement as of the date it is first used after effectiveness. Provided, however, that no statement made in a registration statement or prospectus that is a part of the registration statement or made in a document incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference into the registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement will, as to a purchaser with a time of contract of sale prior to such first use, supersede or modify any statement that was made in the registration statement or prospectus that was part of the registration statement or made in any such document immediately prior to such date of first use.

(4) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

Re: Univest Tech, Inc. (the Company)
Amendment No. 3 to Registration Statement on Form S-1
Filed May 25, 2010
File Number: 333-159315

Dear Mr. Owings:

This is in response to your June 22, 2010 comment to the Company. The paragraph numbers in this letter correspond to those in your comment letter.

General

1. Please ensure that you have updated your prospectus to reflect the most recent information available to you, as applicable. For example, we note that your beneficial ownership table and your market for common equity disclosure is dated as of January 31, 2010 and information relating to your outstanding shares is dated as of November 30, 2009 in your risk factors. Also, some of your risk factors continue to reference your prior fiscal year ended October 31, 2008, rather than October 31, 2009, Refer to page 4 as an example. Please revise.

The Company has made the appropriate revisions.

2. We note your response to comment one in our letter dated December 31, 2009. There are still references to wireless technologies in the summary and under "Plan of Operation" and "Description of Business." Please describe more fully what you mean by wireless technologies. Explain whether you are referring to content, software, hardware, a combination of these, or something else. Explain clearly how wireless technologies fit within your business plan or revise to eliminate these references.

The Company has eliminated the reference to wireless technologies.

Dilution, page 10

3. Because you have negative net tangible book value at January 31, 2010 of $(15,735) or $(0.000683) per share, before and after the offering, it appears that the purchasers of shares from your selling shareholders will incur immediate dilution of $(0.2506) per share. Please revise or tell us how your dilution per share of $(0.2493) was derived.

The dilution has been revised and updated as of the July 31, 2010.

Management's Discussion and Analysis, page 13

Selected financial data, page 4

4. We note your response to comment four in our letter dated December 31, 2009. However, it does not appear you have revised the disclosure. We note that the amounts captioned Total Expenses for three months ended January 31, 2010 and the year ended October 31, 2009 actually represent your operating expenses rather than your total expenses as these amounts do not include interest expense. Please revise or explain to us the reason for the discrepancy.

The Company has made the appropriate revisions.

Results of Operations, page 14

5. Please revise your disclosure in the second paragraph under the heading "Results of Operations" to clarify that your accountants have expressed "substantial" doubt about your ability to continue in business as a going concern.

The Company has made the appropriate revision.

6. Please expand your disclosure to provide a discussion of your results of operations for the year ended October 31, 2009 compared to the period ended October 31, 2008. Refer to Item 303 of Regulation S-K.

The Company has made the appropriate revisions.

Description of Business, page 18

7. We note your response to comment six in our letter dated December 31, 2009. Your disclosure remains unclear.

- Please describe in detail the data that you intend to mine from your proposed website and what you intend to do with that mined data.
- We also note the items, including wireless devices, listed on the bottom of page 19 and the top of page 20. Please explain in detail whether these items will be sold on your proposed website or through some other channel.
- Additionally, we note the references to “festivals” and “corporate performances” Please clearly explain how festivals and corporate performances fit within your business plan.

The Company has made the appropriate revisions.

General

8. Please update your financial statements to include interim financial statements as of a date within 134 days of the anticipated effective date of your filing. Refer to Rule 8-08 (b) of Regulation S-X.

Financials have been updated through July 2010.

Note 1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, page 38 Revenue Recognition, page 39

9. We note your response and revisions to your revenue recognition policy in Note 1. We also note from your disclosures under Plan of Operation on page 16, The Product and Festivals on page 19 and Revenue Generation Plan on page 20 that you plan to generate revenue from multiple sources some of which appear to have varied and specific revenue recognition criteria. Please further revise your revenue recognition policy to be consistent with the description of your planned revenue generating activities and the description of your business or tell us how your current revenue recognition policies are consistent with your description of your business. Specifically, we believe you should explain your planned revenue recognition policies in the following areas:

- Event ticket sales;
- Music media sales;
- Merchandise sales;
- Promotional/Sponsorship and Advertising Revenues, including amounts to be generated on a “per click” basis;
- Website sales and;
- Wireless device sales and activations.

See change to revenue recognition in footnote 1.

The Company has noted the comments by the Staff in the closing section. If you have any additional questions, do not hesitate to contact the undersigned. For accounting comments, please contact Mr. Ronald Chadwick at (303) 306-1967.
